Re: Darrin W. Shatner
b. 07-12-67

Dear Ms. Goldberg:

This is Darrin's third progress letter since entering Arden Shore July 29, 1980.

As Darrin's group leader, I see him as a young man who has shown he can give his group some really dynamite help when he isn't playing a fool and trying to aggravate his group members. Darrin is talking more about his problems, but does he want help from his group or does he want his group to feel sorry for him?

In school, the teachers say Darrin has shown he can give good help to other group members when they are having trouble with their math. When is Darrin going to choose to help himself? Who does Darrin think he is hurting by not completing English assignments? Darrin has the ability, but when is he going to motivate himself to get an education instead of using most of his energy to try to aggravate his group members?

In the dorm, staff see Darrin doing a good job of helping others when he isn't feeling sorry for himself. He will talk about his bad feelings, but how often is Darrin putting to use the help the group is giving him? It's true that Darrin is using some of the help because he didn't show as many silly problems this month, but why show any unnecessary problems?

The group often sees Darrin reacting to their help instead of taking a look at it, but at least he will deal with it alot sooner. The group also sees Darrin needing to talk about his stealing problem since he stole a watch and a cigarette this month. The group says Darrin knows where stealing got him out in the community so they are wondering why he is still doing it. The group says Darrin is working on getting his easily misled problem under control, but they still believe he needs more help on it because he will still, at times, give up on his group members and go along with their inappropriate behavior.

To: Ms. Goldberg Re: Darrin Wayne Shatner 10/30/80 - page two

Darrin sees himself needing to get others to feel sorry for him. He doesn't want to realize that he will need to quit fantasizing about the way things should be and needs to start dealing with things the way they really are. Life is not a fairy tale where magically everyone lives happily ever after.

Darrin has been visited by his parents this month and he is showing them the respect they deserve. He is no longer threatening or talking back to them. They have told him they are splitting up. Does Darrin really believe that or does he think they will get back together again? Darrin has shown a very mature attitude when helping the handicapped people at Grove School and the Waukegan Developmental Center. Darrin needs to show that maturity more often throughout the day.

Respectfully,

Edward Bellevage
Acting Group Leader

Re: Darrin Shatner

Three-Month Summary

Dear Ms. Goldberg:

This is Darrin's three-month summary. He entered Arden Shore on July 29, 1980.

Darrin spent his first month of placement trying to deny any responsibility for his actions. He constantly would want his peer group's attention to be focused on him. He would act out by throwing little temper tantrums or he would act like he was crying and the whole world was against him. He would always say that others caused him to behave inappropriately and he would get very defensive when that responsibility was placed on him.

The same type of behavior continued during Darrin's second month of placement. Also, Darrin would try to aggravate his peers by putting them down. During this month, Darrin was informed by his parents that they were separating and eventually divorcing. Darrin really didn't believe this. He believes they will get back together again.

During Darrin's third month of placement, he began to take things more seriously more often. He would help his peers more, although at times he would still try to aggravate them. He would not go along with their inappropriate behavior as often which showed he was taking more responsibility for his own behavior. He still isn't dealing with the separation of his parents. He believes it is only a temporary thing. This is something he still needs to deal with. Darrin did not show as many silly problems this month, but he showed more of the problems that got him into trouble in the community, things like stealing and acting out in school which shows Darrin is being himself more.

During this period, Darrin attended sixty-three (63) group meetings with the meeting focused on him seven (7) times.

To: Ms. Goldberg Re: Darrin W. Shatner, 3-month summary, 11/5/80 - page two

There was an incident report written when Darrin ran away.

Our nurse submits the following medical report for this period:

7/29/80: Admitted to Lincoln group. Transferred from Sunny Ridge. Health records being sent.
8/22/80: Complete physical by Dr. Schwartz. Overweight by about 10 lbs; otherwise, normal findings.

Attached is an academic progress letter submitted by Darrin's teachers for the period September to October, 1980. .

Darrin's parents have visited six (6) times since he was placed.

Re: Darrin W. Shatner
b. 07-12-67

Dear Ms. Goldberg:

This is Darrin's fourth progress letter since entering Arden Shore on July 29, 1980.

As his group leader, I see Darrin as a young man who is helping his group alot more than in the past. At the same time he is also helping himself more, but he was still seeing acting a fool as a solution to some of his problems. When is Darrin going to consistently talk maturely about his feelings instead of hoping he can play them away?

In school, the teachers say Darrin has started to motivate. He has made up assignments so he has earned a grade in math and careers instead of an incomplete. When will Darrin earn a grade in his remedial class? Darrin will still try to pretend he doesn't understand his assignments when he doesn't want to do his assignments. Darrin has made alot of progress this month, but how much more could he have made. What kind of progress has Darrin made as dormwork captain?

In the dorm, staff see Darrin helping others more and giving up less. He is talking more about his own family situation and is trying to resolve his feelings about that. Darrin will still have a defensive attitude when others bring some good points to him which shows Darrin is not working as hard as he could. Darrin will often play dumb, forget books, or look for sympathy instead of working on his problems seriously. Does Darrin think this is how you get a home visit?

The group sees Darrin putting more effort into helping them become greater. Why does Darrin try to tear that down by aggravating his group members? The group wants Darrin to be able to handle his responsibilities alot better. He did a poor job handling the group's matches and he is constantly allowing group members to go to school with incomplete dormwork. Is this taking care of the business? When Darrin wants to he can be a dynamite group member, so why does he slow himself down by not handling his responsibilities?

To: Ms. Goldberg Re: Darrin Wayne Shatner 12/3/80 - page two Darrin sees himself as having to "put on a show" when he feels badly. Darrin wants to embarrass himself when he is feeling bad. He will do things like write on his arm or throwing milk in the dining hall. Does doing this help Darrin solve his problems?

Darrin has received visits from his father this month. He is starting to be more honest with him about his feelings. He can talk to his father without playing games. When will he do that more often with his group?

Respectfully,

Edward Bellevage

Dear Ms. Goldberg,

This is Darrin's fifth progress letter since entering Arden Shore.

As Darrin's group leader I see him as a young man who still will allow his feelings to tear him down. Instead of being man enough to talk about them, Darrin chooses to act like a five-year old before he decides to maturely deal with his problems.

In school the teachers say that Darrin has shown very little progress this month. Darrin would rather lose his math. assignment instead of doing the assignment. When is Darrin going to work in school instead of failing by losing papers, playing the fool or being easily misled. When will Darrin use his creativity to succeed rather than fail. Maybe Darrin wants mommy and daddy to take care of him the rest of his life.

In the dorm, staff see Darrin giving his group good help when he is choosing to act maturely. Does Darrin mean what he says? It seems he doesn't always follow his own advice. Staff never heard Darrin help others by telling them to play his problems away, yet that is often Darrin's solution to his problems.

The group sees Darrin talking a lot about what he needs to do, but when it's time to back those words with actions, he often will choose to do just the opposite. Why doesn't Darrin have the confidence to talk about his feelings before he needs to look like a fool. Does Darrin enjoy constantly looking for negative attention.

Darrin sees himself needing to play games to let his group know he feels bad. Does Darrin have a mouth? Can he talk about his feelings before he finds it necessary to act like a baby. Why doesn't Darrin believe in himself?

Darrin always gets visits from his mother and his father. He tells them he will work on his problems and then will act like a fool. Does Darrin enjoy lying to his parents?

Closing Summary

Dear Ms. Harman:

This is the closing summary for Darrin who entered Arden Shore on July 29, 1980.

During Darrin's last month of placement, he continued to show that even though he could talk about his feelings, he still found it necessary to act babyfied afterwards.

In school, Darrin spent a lot of time sabotaging his work to avoid success. Attached is an academic progress letter submitted by Darrin's teachers for the period November 1, 1980 to January 16, 1981.

On January 30, 1981 during a dispositional hearing, Darrin chose to take what he considered the easy way out and go to the Audy Home. Darrin was discharged from program on January 30, 1981.

During the period covering from November, 1980 to January 20, 1981, Darrin attended sixty-six (66) group meetings with the meeting focused on him nine (9) times.

No incident reports were filed during this period.

Our nurse reports Darrin has not required medical attention during this period.

Re: Darrin Shatner
d.o.b. 7/12/67

Dear Ms. Johns:

Thank you for the referral on Darrin Shatner. I am returning the referral information sent to us. I do not feel that Darrin is an appropriate candidate for placement at Hoyleton Children's Home.

Referring to the letter dated July 18, 1980 from Sunny Ridge Family Center which states Darrin's frequency of rages, attacks on others, threats to self, and threats to others, I feel he would not be able to function with the population we currently have.

Once again, thank you for the referral. If I can be of assistance to you in the future do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Richard Walker, ACSW, CSW

SHELTER, INC.

CLOSING SUMMARY: Darrin Shatner
9/24/81

Darrin Shatner, Age 14, was referred to Shelter, Inc. on 8-5-81 by Marilyn Harmon of DCFS. Darrin was in need of temporary, short-term foster care while permanent placement would be planned for. Since the age of 12, Darrin has been a ward of the state as a result of MINS violations. Since then he became involved with the probation department, the latter resulting from the robbery of a bike shop. Prior to Shelter, Darrin was placed in two separate therapeutic institutions, both of which failed due to Darrin's inability to conform.

The goals of the placement were:

1. Provide a therapeutic and nurturing environment.
2. Maintain communications with the referral source.
3. Provide physical shelter and care.
4. Terminate the placement when an appropriate placement was secured by DCFS.

These goals have been partially met, since Darrin ran away on 8-23-81. It should be noted that Darrin's runaway was highlighted by the theft of the Shelter car, after stealing the keys from a file cabinet which was located in an area restricted from the residents. This action is viewed by the staff as planned and calculated, since Darrin removed parts of telephones and deflated tires of staff car prior to leaving the premises.

During his stay at Shelter, Darrin had limited contact with his mother. Mrs. Shatner visited Darrin on two occasions. Once for lunch and the second time for a shopping outing. Darrin seemed to enjoy the visits even though they left him with mixed emotions. Subsequent to these visits, Darrin sought out staff persons to talk with. It became evident that Darrin viewed himself in a position of hopelessness and despair. He placed the entire blame on his mother for not being able to provide adequate care for him. At the same time Darrin is unable to see how his action contributed to his removal from the family. Furthermore, the feelings toward his mother are a source of continuous conflict. On one hand Darrin wishes to be close to his mother but on the other hand he is extremely angry at her, viewing her as the major contributor to the divorce from Mr. Shatner.

During placement Darrin strived for acceptance by the other residents. However he was unable to form positive relationships with peers, primarily because his interactions were from an assumed position of superiority, either because of past experiences or prior possession of material goods, real and unreal.

The unrealistic stories which Darren was able to come up with were of great concern to Shelter staff. Darrin's reality boundaries are questionable since he was unable to admit that some of the things he was telling were untrue. Ownership of rare cars, motorcycles, material goods, and illegal activities were the predominant subjects of his stories. In individual counseling sessions Darrin was defiant and assumed the role of the victim without exception. Darrin's most appropriate behavior was his ability to accept responsibility for his share of chores, which were done on a daily basis.

Even though Darrin's behavior makes it difficult to get close to him, he is a likeable boy. At times he was able to engage in unpretentious conversations, especially when the subject was of mechanical (machine) nature. During such periods his defenses were lowered and a very needy and hurting boy emerged.

Due to the runaway, he did not receive a physical examination. He did appear to be of normal physical development and in good health.

It is the impression of this writer that Darrin's problems are a result of family instability and unresolved conflicts stemming from and towards his parents. Psychological and psychiatric testing is recommended, to determine the extent to which those conflicts interfere with normal behavior.

TREATMENT REVIEW NO. 1

SHATNER, Darren

Admission Date: 10-06-81

PERIOD COVERED: 10-06-81 to 12-18-81

CHILD CARE WORKER REPORT: Kevin Epley

Narrative:

Since Darren has arrived at Covenant Childrens' Home, he has undergone roommate changes, stemming from problems with getting along with those boys he shared a room with. Darren shares a room with two black boys. He has expressed racial hatred to staff and peers. Considering these instances of verbal expression and physical confrontations with his roommate, racial prejudice is a strong possibility for Darren's roommate trouble.

Darren has, also, undergone many new staff changes since his arrival at Covenant. During Darren's first six weeks, almost entirely new staff have been instituted on the Blue Unit in which Darren resides. This situation imposes certain degrees of uncomfortability on all children, Darren included. Darren has expressed a difficulty in opening up to any staff or child care worker about any of his problems. Darren has not bonded to any staff, or formed any relationships, other than superficial, with staff.

Darren has also gone through several peer departures since he has resided at Covenant. What effect this has on Darren is not really known. It seems to be hard for Darren to form any positive relationships with a peer, and with peers leaving Covenant - this may add to the difficulty for Darren of bonding with a peer.

These three situational changes - roommate problems, new staff and peers leaving - have placed a burden on Darren, a burden Darren will have trouble carrying. At the time of this review, Darren has been placed in a bedroom by himself.

Behavioral Observations:

In reference to Darren, several behavioral observations have been made, which stand out from his entire behavioral schemes. Darren has a thought process which is dominated by unrealistic, mythical, and fantasy expression. Darren seems to have an obsession with the supernatural and occult. He expresses this in his social interaction with staff and peers. Stemming, perhaps, from this unrealism is Darren's acting out behavior, which is clearly melodramatic acting. Darren is quite dishonest in his actions and is among people. He gets a negative contagion started among peers. Darren is an obvious troublemaker and relates, most often, with staff in a trouble situation. Darren is excessively abusive to staff, mostly in a verbal way, however, there have been physical situations - especailly with female staff.

Most Significant Issue:

Darren's most significant life issue is that of school. His behavior outside the classroom carries over into the classroom. Although Darren prefers his room to school, he seems to enjoy disrupting the classroom, setting other peers off. Darren expresses a negative attitude of school, poor interest and often is tardy or doesn't show up for class. Darren's major problems in the classroom are talking and making bizarre noises.

A treatment plan for the school issue should involve a system of no reward for poor school performance. If he does not bring his grades up, or do his homework then he does not participate in sports activity - which Darren finds enjoyable. When he refuses to work in school, he can take it with him when kicked out, as opposed to just being kicked out of school, which he enjoys. If his work cannot be done in class, he can do it on his free time in his room. Darren must know that he cannot escape from school. His teachers state that he has the ability to do the work but not the desire. Using a peer that has proven to be a positive influence on Darren may help to open Darren to proper school behavior.

Social Context:

Darren's social context, like his behavior, is unrealistic, intangible. Darren's family is in his thoughts but is not a tangible, realistic primary group for him. His family is on/off/on, an unstable group. His family is not a long term obvious part of his life. Community interaction is non-existent for Darren. Darren goes nowhere alone, never interacting alone with the community. When in the community Darren has been known to sneak off.

STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES:

Strengths:

1. Has good personal hygiene.
2. Enjoys sports and activities.
3. Can maintain brief superficial relationships.

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 1 (Con't.)

December 18, 1981

Darren saw Dr. Oswald on November 30, 1981 for his initial optical.

Dr. Assalley, our Consulting Psychiatrist, saw Darren on October 29, 1981 concerning his complaint of "migraine headaches". Dr. Assalley suggested that a record be kept as to the time the headaches occur, the position of the headache, the length of the time the headache lasts and whether or not Tylenol grain 10 or aspirin grain 10 helps to relieve the discomfort. Darren has complained three times of such headaches. These headaches occurred on:

11-11-81 at 4:45 p.m. in the bilateral temples, two Tylenols were given that relieved the discomfort by 9:45 a.m.

11-19-81 at 11:00 p.m. - Darren again complained of migraine again in the temporal area which again was relieved by two Tylenol.

12-15-81 - again Darren complained of headache at 11:00 a.m. and again it was located in his temporal area.

Darren complained of an inability to sleep. Dr. Assalley was notified and prescribed, on November 19, 1981, Activan 2 mg one tablet at hour of sleep. On December 10, 1981, Darren stated it was difficult for him to wake up in the mornings. Dr. Assalley again was again contacted and changed the time for the Activan to be given from hour of sleep to 5:00 p.m.

Due to no immunization record accompanying Darren, he will need to have all his immunizations rescheduled.

Darren has no known allergies.

PSYCHOTHERAPY:

Darren was first seen individually once a week and twice in group therapy. Since Thanksgiving, both have been intensified to twice weekly and every week day respectively.

Although, on intake, his mother agreed to visiting him on a monthly basis, she has only been down once since placement and that was unscheduled. Several other appointments or promises to Darren were made but broken without motive. These times, would give Darren the excuse to act out - usually resulting in his need to be isolated for a brief time in order to gain his composure.

Darren has successfully completed a five day Thanksgiving home visit, and he will go home on a twelve day pass at Christmas. This is one week less than other boys due to the fact that there would be little supervision at home during the first week of vacation. Mrs. Shatner's only complaint of Darren's Thanksgiving

Treatment Review No. 1 (Con't.)

December 18, 1981.

Because Darren seems to approach life as if it were one big con game, he-at times-forgets himself. He is just going through a role and ends up believing the picture of reality he is projecting. He, then, really gets goofed up. Fortunately, his eyes and face give him away...giving lots of clues as to the sincerity at the moment.

Darren's dramatics are unbelievable. He can spin a yarn about some tragedy in his life meriting at least several Academy Awards. There is almost a touch of mania to his presentation. Unfortunately, Darren's dramatics escalate and he frequently needs to be isolated. Sometimes, we can bring Darren out of it by treating him neutrally.

Thus, Darren sees himself as the victim....almost like a sacrificial lamb. He is at Covenant because of his mother's doing to bid his time until the divorce goes through. His attitudes and behaviors here are blameless - it is our inability to understand him. If he's not blaming staff, it is the kids who instigate trouble and pull him in.

At the time of this writing, I honestly do not feel Darren feels close to any staff persons here. Despite our efforts, he does not trust us. More than any other kid, he is attempting to duplicate the world he was used to - prior to placement on the unit, especially relationships with adults. We are objects to move about until he hits the right combination to get what he wants.

My prognosis for Darren is guarded. I doubt he will ever get at the stuff therapy is made of - until his family entanglements are resolved.

1. DESCRIBE IN DETAIL WHAT ACTUALLY HAPPENED. (INDICATE TIME, SPECIFIC PLACE, CAUSES, RESIDENTS AND STAFF INVOLVED).

TIME: 11:35 A.M. Darren attacked staff with a chair. It happened at the kitchen table. Darren was being confronted by staff (Jack Tanton and Kevin Epley) on a family issue involving some stolen jewelry of Darren's mother. After several minutes of discussion, and finally getting to the bottom of the issue, Darren began acting out. He

2. DESCRIBE WHAT IMMEDIATE ACTION WAS TAKEN BY STAFF MEMBERS PRESENT: (continued on attached sheet)

Jack Tanton immediately seized Darren on the floor, pinned him, and asked another boy to go for help. Kevin Epley immediately cringed under the blow, stepped back and went for Darren. However, Kevin changed his composure and went into the bathroom in extreme pain.

3. DESCRIBE FOLLOW-UP PLAN ESTABLISHED BY STAFF MEMBERS: (continued on attached sheet)

At the time immediately following the incident, and several hours after, Darren had only been confined to C.I.R., the Child Care Worker Supervisor and staff concurred that Darren could be released in time for the Unit Group Meeting and then placed on room restriction with periodic staff checks.

4. COULD THIS SITUATION HAVE BEEN AVOIDED? IF SO, WHAT SUGGESTIONS DO YOU HAVE FOR AVOIDANCE IN THE FUTURE?

I do not see how such an outburst of irrational, sporadic, unprovoked behavior could have been avoided. Darren is such a volatile youth that simply verbal frustration and over stimulation can cause such vile behavior. Darren could have controlled his behavior but is consistently choosing to overstate his feelings by inappropriate actions

SHATNER, Darren
Birthdate: 07-12-67
Admission Date: 10-06-81

April 6, 1982

PERIOD COVERED: 12-18-81 to 04-06-82

CHILD CARE WORKER REPORT:

Narrative:

Situational Changes:

The past three months show that Darren has undergone several changes in child care staff. Two have remained the same, while the other two have changed at least twice. Also, he has seen two peers leave Covenant while four new peers have been admitted - three within one week. Jack Tanton remains as Darren's therapist.

Also, in this period, Darren has had a room to himself, basically due to the fact that previously he could not get along with his roommates.

Behavioral Observations:

Darren's behavior has improved dramatically. He is less pre-occupied with the super natural and the occult. He is more realistic. He is more honest and sincere in relating to others, although he still could do much more.

Darren has shown more responsible, mature behavior in the past three months. He is less destructive of material possessions. He no longer exhibits paranoia. He doesn't sleep in his closet or between the bed and wall now. He seems to feel safe here and is much more comfortable with himself.

He has a much more positive attitude. He readily accepts responsibility and consequences for his less frequent negative behavior. He can also accept praise for his good behavior without discomfort.

His relationship with his mom has improved as his attitude and behavior have improved here at Covenant.

Relationship with Staff and Peers:

Darren's relationship with staff has also improved drastically. While he still has developed no close ties with any one staff member, he accepts authority and is much more respectful to both male and female staff.

In peer relationships, Darren has very little to do with his younger

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 2 (Con't.)

April 6, 1982

peers. There are two boys his age that he pals around with, but this is erratic. The three of them very seldom get along at the same time. He has a tendency to play one against the other.

Most Significant Issue:

Darren's most significant issue is his inability to develop positive meaningful relationships. He is phony and narcissistic. It is difficult to trust him on his motives. It is also difficult for him to trust anyone else. Therefore, any relationship he does develop is of a very superficial nature.

Social Context:

Darren attends on-grounds school. Bot attendance and behavior have improved. He still occasionally has a problem with his antics in one particular class, but overall has done well this time period. His grades are average.

During ths past month, Darren has earned his uptown privilege. He also attends church on Sunday and goes on outings with the unit and staff.

STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES:

STRENGTHS:

1. Good personal hygiene.
2. Enjoys sports and activities.
3. Active participant in group therapy.
4. Has a fairly good sense of humor.

WEAKNESSES:

1. Is not trusting of people, consequently has a difficult time developing relationships.
2. Not able to share feelings openly and honestly.
3. Unrealistic, especially fantasizing about his family.
4. Fronting - phony.
5. Defensive - denies and projects blame on others.

ISSUES, OBJECTIVES AND PROCEDURES:

ISSUE I: Fronting.

-3-

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 2 (Con't.)

April 6, 1982

OBJECTIVE:

To assist Darren in learning to be more honest with self and others.

PROCEDURES:

1. Confront Darren on the spot when he is being dishonest or putting on a front.
2. Use peers and utilize group therapy to challenge Darren when he is pretending to be what he is not.

ISSUE II: Peer and Staff Relationships.

OBJECTIVE:

To promote positive interaction with staff and peers.

PROCEDURES:

1. Darren will spend one hour per shift one-on-one with a staff member.
2. Use group therapy to facilitate interaction with peers.
3. Encourage Darren to spend at least one hour per shift with a peer with whom he normally has little interaction.

MEDICAL: Barb Smith, R.N., Staff Nurse

Narrative:

Darren's physical condition remains good. He has few physical complaints, other than headaches as discussed in his previous treatment review.

The following are the dates and times of these headaches. Each time, Darren received two Tylenol for the complaint.

- 01-17-82 - 11:45 p.m. - temporal area. Lasted approximately one hour after medication was given.
- 01-28-82 - 11:15 p.m. (Same as above).

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 2 (Con't.)

April 6, 1982

PSYCHOTHERAPY:

Darren has been seen two times per week individually and has been involved five times per week in unit group therapy. He is always prompt and seems to anticipate with a positive attitude his time with me and the group sessions. Due to Darren's theft of jewelry while at home over Christmas, his mother has not been in contact with him either by phone or in person. The loss was discovered in mid-January and all the pieces recovered. At that point, Mrs. Shatner didn't want to "see his face again". However, by March 5, 1982 when a family conference including the Department of Children and Family Services, Probation Office and the Covenant Children's Home, she had reversed her stance and was once again hoping Darren would cut out his nonsense and come home to live with her or Mark. These flip-flops are common in her handling of Darren. Another familiar pattern is to place an inordinate amount of responsibility on his shoulders: Darren, hurry up and get better so (1) Mark and I can get married, (2) we'll have a family again, (3) we can buy a house for us all to live in, and (4) Mark's son can live with us, too.

At this same mid-January date, Mrs. Shatner relented a previous stance and gave me her ex-mother-in-law's work phone number. Since placement, Darren has shown various degrees of concern as to his father's welfare. Many times, when all else failed, he used this lack of contact as an excuse for not taking responsibility for his behavior. Darren talked just to his grandmother, and then there were several phone calls initiated by his father. He is presently living with his "old girl friend" and her two young children. A blood relative is nearby and is the employer of Darren's father. His residence remains undisclosed since Mr. Shatner is still party to numerous legal suits. Like his ex-wife, Mr. Shatner made some commitments to Darren (more calls, working out an on-grounds visit, perhaps eventually living with him), but has failed to follow through. Darren attempted to contact his father through his grandmother in mid-March, but there has been no call from his dad, to date.

Darren's position has cleared over the weeks. He is now better able to separate out which are his problems from those eminently from the family system. He has plainly told his mother to go on with her plans, but to forget building the structure of these plans around him coming to live with her. Unless she "learns to play different games, you can count me out" of living with her. Likewise, the sporadically brief contact with his dad put to rest his fears that some harm had come to him, but also confirmed that unless Darren could put into his dad's games, he had better not

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 2 (Con't.)

April 6, 1982

count on his dad's support either. Darren has gained a good, realistic picture of his family role, and he is presently convinced that he does not want to be drawn in by them anymore. The end result is a different Darren from the one experienced following placement.

Now that weather is turning better, it is planned that Darren will visit his mother every third week. He will go by bus and return with his mother, culminating the pass with a family session. Hopefully, Mark will be drawn into these sessions in a meaningful way.

Participation in Therapy:

Darren has increasingly grown in his participation in therapy. Where at first he needed to be guided and prodded, Darren now comes with at least one issue he wants to explore. It took a number of weeks for him to shift from "thinking PPC". It was not uncommon for him to use the PPC approach as a distancing mechanism. Darren is now much more congruent, meaning that in the office or in group, he is much more in touch with the feelings inside himself or others and they all match up with his total presentation of himself.

Darren is seen as much less manipulative. He wants to please, and is identifying more and more with his need to be a psychologically healthy kid. This is seen on an everyday basis in his growing ability to cope with life problems (school, girls, ups and downs of peer relationships, etc.). Darren has also improved on his capacity to build and cement friendships. This has been difficult as his only role models have utilized a high degree of manipulation. Many of our individual sessions have zeroed on his not wanting to go home to live with his mother because of the way each of them sets the other up to gain gratification at the other's expense. Darren describes this as "going from one spider's net to another" and "disentangling a ball of yarn that is all snarled up". Group sessions have been productive in pointing out Darren's manipulations and helping him work out more natural conversations.

Now that Darren is more settled into the program, he has dropped some of his defenses, and is in a better place to accept criticism of his behavior/attitude from staff he trusts. Darren can more easily take pointers from peers in group, but outside group he has a harder time filtering out what he might interpret as threats or sarcasms. However, even at these times, if staff intervention is necessary he can usually be brought down without much effort. Darren can also accept the intervention of two of his high school aged peers. The three have formed a positively-based mutual admiration society.

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 2 (Con't.)

April 6, 1982

Staff has found that Darren can fall easy prey to their mischiefs though, in spite of his best intentions. He is not strong enough to say "no" yet, but at least he is entertaining the various angles to problems he confronts here at Covenant. His repertoire of "off-limit" behaviors, however, has grown. The advent of Spring will test the strengths of these boundaries against his "old nature".

Darren is using individual and group therapies to strengthen his ability to work cooperatively with other peers and adults. The more he has worked at this with strong support from staff the less interested he becomes in what's in it for him. There is indeed a part of Darren that is interested in helping another person. His PPC training laid the foundation, but it took time and an atmosphere less confronting for him to drop his front and medicine side show routine.

Darren still has many rough edges. His self-esteem is still closely tied to the feedback he gets from his parents. Since they seem very caught up in taking care of their own needs first, Darren is set-up for a fall everytime he looks for praise from them. Unless some dramatic changes occur within the system, Darren will always come out on the short end. We have seen evidence that Darren has the potential for positive psychological growth when his sights are not blunted by family expectations. What growth Darren has achieved and internalized we must be cognizant of the observation that these forward steps are still skin-deep. He is still very vulnerable to the manipulations of other peers and adults - "easily led"- and needs further life experience under keen, supportive supervision to broaden and deepen his responses.

Discharge Planning:

Darren's father remains inaccessible due to financial and legal problems. His mother continues to be solely concerned for her own needs and concerns to keep her relationship with Mark afloat. Darren has a place in her life if he fits himself into her priorities. Deviation signals very strong rejection messages. Since Darren needs much more psychological assistance in learning to cope with life's problems without running or blowing off; in caring for someone besides himself; and in judging a situation as it is rather than how one would like it to be, Covenant staff does not envision discharge planning as a viable topic for this coming review period.

Is the parent's or child's conduct or condition likely to result in harm to the child if services are not provided? Specify what harms. If the child was not placed with a relative and a willing relative was available, explain why the relative placement was excluded. For Indian children, document that the child was placed in accordance with Part 307, Indian Child Welfare Services.

Case was opened because child was not controllable by mother. David was getting into difficulty in community. Parents in the midst of a divorce and neither can provide necessary control, thus necessitating placement in an individualized, strongly structured treatment center. Problems still existing in spite of previous placements are: Stealing, not tempered, and dishonesty.

Darrin has improved in hygiene and room upkeep. While he

TREATMENT REVIEW NO. 3

SHATNER, Darren
Birthdate: 07-12-67
Date of Admission: 10-06-81

June 22, 1982

PERIOD COVERED: 04-06-82 to 06-22-82

CHILD CARE WORKER REPORT:

Narrative:

Situational Changes:

In the past three months at Covenant, Darren has seen an erratic change in staff. Two staff members remain the same while one new member has been added and there have been constant changes in the fourth member of the team. Darren has also had to make other adjustments in that one of his closest friends was discharged at the end of the school term. In addition, a new boy was admitted and became Darren's roommate after having never successfully shared this space with anyone else before. Jack Tanton remains as Darren's therapist.

Behavioral Observations:

While Darren has not reverted back to some of his earlier negative behaviors, he has slipped into other poor behavior patterns. He is being easily misled by peers his own age and exhibiting a great deal of negative behaviors with them. Part of this may be due to the fact that the oldest leader on the unit was discharged at the end of the school year and Darren now is vying for the position of unit leader.

Darren is moody, although these moods change easily and he is easily calmed down. He can be seen taking a very bossy, bullying attitude with his younger peers.

Darren has been confused about his relationship with his mother particularly, and has been much more verbally abusive with female staff than ever before. He is pre-occupied with fantasizing about living with his dad who has appeared recently.

Darren has also been testing his limits to extremes. He has run away, even though they may have been short runs, several times in this period. He has taken every opportunity seen to act deviously; lying, stealing and cheating at games, anything to "pull one over" on someone and test. Eventually the truth comes out of him, but he seems to enjoy the "con" games and entertaining his peers with his feats.

SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review No. 3 (Con't.)

June 22, 1982

While Darren was at Dr. Davis's on May 28, 1982, he asked Dr. Davis to examine his back. Dr. Davis suspected possible scoliosis and ordered two x-rays of the back, separate views and Williams Exercise. On June 3, 1982, it was decided that Darren's back is thought to be the result of poor posture rather than scoliosis. However, it will be rechecked at the next examination.

On May 18, 1982, Darren had a lead pencil lead in his back - right anterior pectoris. Area around puncture was not red or swollen. By May 20th, there was no evidence of lead.

On May 17, 1982, Darren's immunizations were updated with a Diphtheria-Tetanus, Oral Polio.

Darren saw Dr. Suarez, Optometrist, on May 21, 1982. Darren's visual acuity remains the same with small amount of astigmatism. Right acuity 20/25 and left acuity 20/20. No glasses were indicated, at this time.

PSYCHOTHERAPY:

Narrative:

Impact and Ramifications of Family Contact with Darren:

This period is noteworthy for the interplay both parents have had in Darren's life. Where once the father was behind the scenes, Mrs. Shatner has replaced him, thereby nudging Mr. Shatner into center stage.

Almost two months to the day, June 4, 1982, a second conference was convened by me and Marilyn Harmon, DCFS worker, at the North Area Office to attempt once again to clarify Mrs. Shatner's stance towards her involvement with Darren, and to reach an agreement on a workable visiting schedule. (The previous two agreements having failed due to Mrs. Shatner's "work schedule", etc.). For the record, Mrs. Shatner has visited Darren at Covenant only three times, two unannounced, and the latter to attend an Awards Banquet at which time Darren received several certificates of recognition for last year's sports activities. On March 5, 1982, it was agreed that at least once a week Darren would be driven back and a family conference would be held. Darren was usually returned by bus, and the one time I do recall they drove him down, Darren was dropped off at the door, and they drove off without coming inside. It is also important to note that Mrs. Shatner's boyfriend has

Mrs. Harmon and myself are adopting a wait and see attitude towards Darren ultimately living with his father. We will do our best to facilitate him living with either parent but there are certain check points (among many) that must be met:

1. Legal entanglements between parents must be resolved.
2. Mr. Shatner's personal, financial and legal problems must be cleared up.
3. A social study of each parent and their immediate living situation must be completed.
4. Each parent must be agreeable to support and participate in an after care program lasting up to no less than one year.
5. Finally, a non-interference policy must be agreed upon by both parents to prevent Darren from getting back into the middle. This ought to be monitored by the agency participating in the after care program.

For the record, Darren's gripe against his mother which form the blinders which prevent viewing his relationship to his father in a realistic manner are:

1. She is more interested in her boyfriend, Mark.
2. She does not talk to Darren very much about important subjects, such as discharge plans, when he is at home.
3. Home visits are boring, as he only tags along with Dottie and Mark to parties, where there is reportedly a lot of drinking.
4. There is nothing to do at home when he is left alone while Dottie and Mark work.
5. He doesn't know anyone in the neighborhood.
6. The apartment is too small.
7. Mark doesn't like him. On his last visit, Darren reports that Mark hit him while the latter was drunk - simply for playing the car radio too loud.
8. Darren does not like the pressure Dottie is putting on him. It is as if her whole world is hung on him getting everything together before she can plan out her own life.

At this point, Darren's treatment team feels that it is premature to make any recommendations or judgements regarding the fitness of anyone of Darren's parents. It is hoped that by early August, Mrs. Harmon and I will have had an opportunity to interview Mr. Shatner. In the meantime, communication must be maintained by the team with Mrs. Shatner regardless of Darren's mood of the moment. At the time of this writing, Mrs. Shatner is allowing Darren to choose to live with his father . . . "Whatever will make you happy, Darling", but in the next breath, she mentions the outstanding child support suit. Her message is clear, but could change with the wind. Staff remembers last January when she didn't want to "see his face"

CLOSING SUMMARY

SHATNER, Darren
Birthdate: 07-12-82
Date of Admission: 10-06-82

August 9, 1982

Darren's treatment program at Covenant was unexpectedly terminated as a result of a planned runaway on Sunday, July 25, 1982. As far as staff can ascertain, the run was instigated by his fear of possible outcomes stemming from an appointment with the States Attorney of Putnam County, Illinois. Darren, along with three other residents, had broken into a concession stand at a nearby lake resort. They had been apprehended on the scene. The conference with the States Attorney was to have set up a schedule of restitution to the stand proprietors, as well as determine some community service.

A successful run was aborted when Darren was intercepted at the Trailway's Bus Station in Chicago by the police. He was held in custody until the Department of Children and Family Services could place him in an emergency shelter facility. A court hearing was set for Wednesday, August 4, 1982. This procedure was initiated by Ms. Karen Brucks, Probation Officer. However, Darren ran again and a warrant was issued for his arrest. That same afternoon, I received a call from Mr. Shatner informing me that Darren had appeared at his door. Mr. Shatner was given a basic outline of the week's events and told to contact Ms. Brucks or Mr. Lahey, NAO, DCFS immediately, which he did.

After several days of negotiations and a court hearing, Darren was released to the care of his father. Covenant was told to discharge Darren effective on August 2, 1982.

Darren's discharge left hanging the disposition of payment of the fine at Putnam County ($54.00) and $99.00 for breakage on the unit. Darren's DCFS worker has been notified of the specifics and will encourage Mr. Shatner to make good on these debts. Clothing and other personal belongings were picked up by Darren and his father when they appeared unannounced at Covenant on Sunday, August 15, 1982.

Recommendations:

Due to the unfinished nature of Darren's stay at Covenant, the staff unanimously recommends that he be involved in some form of individual out-patient counseling. The father needs to be involved in some fashion, as well, to heighten his parenting skills. Continued contact on a regular basis is recommended.

Re: SHATNER, Darren
Treatment Review & Closing Summary

Dear Ms. Harmon:

I am sorry our association has ended so abruptly. I hope, in the future, to share another case with you. I have had a confident feeling all along that we were viewing Darren with a "common eye" and our planning reflected that cooperation.

You will receive in this mailing, Darren's most recent review and also his discharge summary. If there is any further information you need from us to complete our chapter in Darren's folder, please let me know.

As you recall, Darren left us with difficulties still standing with the States Attorney of Putnam County. Darren ran away before his conference regarding the outcome of his various thefts at a lake side concession stand. Norman K. Raffety (262 E. Mulberry, Hennepin, Il.) says he could call any of the boys, within a three and one half year period, if their behavior warranted it. Darren needs to make good his portion of the $214.00 restoration to the owner of the stand. Darren also owes Covenant for damages to furniture he intentionally broke. Following is a breakdown of these items. We would appreciate it if you would contact Mr. Shatner and have him forward to us a check (made out to Covenant Childrens Home) as soon as possible. Covenant paid the concessionaire in full and the boys are expected to pay us back through working summer jobs, allowances, etc..
